Integration of the IPEC core competencies. Interprofessional education reflected in accreditation. This capstone addresses interprofessional and collaborative learning and aids in answering the following question: What are the benefits and challenges of interprofessional education and collaboration for the delivery of care? Commitment to integrate ipe into nursing and health education. 9 principles and practices for integrating interprofessional education into the accreditation standards for six health professions in Canada. A framework for integrating interprofessional education curriculum in the. The center for collaborative health professional education of. Thus, counselors’ understanding of the role and function of interprofessional collaboration in providing care is vital for ensuring quality. Interprofessional education and collaboration practices (e.g., a key component across health professions education) and prepare the development of. Thus, counselors’ understanding of the role and function of interprofessional collaboration in providing care is vital for ensuring quality. Thoughtfully designed educational programs can help students of health.